The Daily Press.

HONGKONG, JUNE 19TH, 1869.

It is to be hoped that the scheme for the management of foreigners in the interior of the country, proposed by Mr. KNIGHT, and recently alluded to in these columns, will be estimated at its proper value, and understood in its true bearings. There is in it very great internal evidence that it forms part and parcel of the scheme now under contemplation by the Chinese, for weakening the influence of foreigners in China. The light in which their plan is represented, is probably merely a desire to restrain undue encroachments on the part of any one nation, but what is really aimed at, is keeping them all back. By means of Mr. BURLINGAME, the United States, in the recent supplementary Treaty, appear to consent to the proposals for retrogression made by the Chinese, probably under the impression, which will assuredly prove erroneous, that some special advantages will be conceded to her for being forward in backing up the Celestial Empire. That the Chinese have devised and are endeavouring now to carry out a carefully arranged scheme of action, there cannot be any doubt, and there is equally no question that they are likely to be prepared with a scheme to meet every contingency. If it should happen that residence in the interior of the country should be insisted upon, then the chief thing to be arrived at is to be secure that the privilege be granted in such a way, as will leave matters entirely in the hands of the Chinese, and this end it is clear may be attained by the scheme under consideration, if it be worked with sufficient adroitness. While the foreigner will be silenced by the apparent concession of a valuable privilege, that concession will after the mode of action now traditional in China, be granted only in such a manner that its main advantage will be lost to those to whom it is conceded. Just as first, the lekin, and now the local taxes, have been made the means of causing the Transit Dues clauses in the Treaty to be of no practical use, so it may be assumed as certain some similar ruse will be attempted for rendering the right of foreigners to proceed to internal marts of no value also. The plan by which it seems desired to accomplish this end is, to judge from what has repeatedly been given utterance to in Sir RUTHERFORD ALCOCK's and other despatches, to strike a blow at the exterritoriality clauses of the Treaty. Recently the manner in which it is hinted this should be done, was pointed out in this paper, when attention was called to the fact that the Mixed Commission at Pekin proposed that an officer from the Custom House should proceed to the spot where any dispute arose concerning illegal exactions on the cargo of a foreigner, and there adjust the matter—that, in point of fact, the Commissioner should perform the duties of the Consul. Other instances might be given, where the same idea has been hinted at. The scheme is very plain in its conception, and the manner in which it is proposed to deceive foreigners in this instance, is singularly simple. It is no doubt imagined that the mere fact that a foreigner of some sort, and not a Chinaman, will be the functionary immediately employed, will be quite sufficient to assure foreign nations that substantial justice will be administered. The fact that the foreigner in question is only an employé of the Chinese, it is hoped, will be overlooked. If only this can be managed the trick can be put through, and the foreigner deprived of the benefit of being under the jurisdiction of his own authorities anywhere out of a Consular port. This much being gained, it is probably thought that it will not be difficult to hinch the area of jurisdiction over which the power of the "Controllers" ranges, to such an extent as, in a little time to annul entirely the powers of the Consuls; and then, the end in which it is evident the Chinese have had so long in view, and upon which Sir RUTHERFORD ALCOCK looks with so much complacency, of doing away with exterritoriality protection, will have been attained, excepting so far as the Chinese find it convenient to make use of the foreign authorities for the performance of the functions which they are incapable of performing themselves.

Such is the drift, if not the deliberate aim of the scheme proposed ostensibly by Mr. KNIGHT, but to judge from internal evidence, having more importance than the expression of the opinions of an individual. It has evidently been very carefully thought over, and bears the stamp of greater earnestness than is to be looked for in a document merely embodying expressions of opinion and laying suggestions before the authorities. No impartial person, who has become familiarised with documents of the kind can fail to be impressed with a feeling that Mr. KNIGHT's despatch to the Hon. Mr. Ross BROWNE, is rather the advocacy of a scheme already under contemplation that the exposition of the writer's own views. It is of course impossible to say absolutely that this is the fact; much more so to say in what fertile brains the scheme may have originated. But this much is certain. It is a scheme towards which the tactics of Mr. HART for the last four years evidently tend, and which would obviously be as much in consonance with the political principles of the Hon. J. Ross BROWNE, as the wandering Embassy was in accordance with those of the Hon. ANSON BURLINGAME. If the latter obtained an Ambassadorship, why should not the former be made Controller-General?

It is stated that in the case of Regina v. Souza, Mr. Pollard and Mr. Hazeland, the counsel and solicitor of Mr. Manuel Pereira, who was in fact the prosecutor in the case, have returned their fees to Mr. Pereira. Civil proceedings have also been commenced on behalf of Mr. Pereira in the Supreme Court, for the recovery of damages from Mr. Souza.

The mercantile community will regret to hear of the resignation of Mr. Bryans, deputy chairman of the Chamber of Commerce, on account of ill health. Mr. Bryans has been in a very feeble condition for several months, and for a week has been confined to his house. On Thursday he took his departure by the mail for the North, where he is in hopes of recovering some of his lost strength.

To-morrow (Sunday) being the day on which Her Majesty began her happy reign, (June 20th,) the form of prayer with thanksgiving to Almighty God," appointed in the book of Common Prayer for that day, will be used in the Cathedral. The Services will be:—At 8.30 A.M.—The Communion Service appointed for "The Accession," with celebration of the Holy Eucharist. At 11 A.M.—Morning Prayer and Litany, with the alterations and additions set forth in the office for the Twentieth Day of June; and a Sermon on the Christian duty of obedience to the Powers that be.

In the Police Court on Thursday, a case occurred, which owing to the pressure of other matter was omitted. It was one of attempting to stab by an old offender. Inspector Grey, who caught the vagabond, said that on Thursday last, about half-past twelve, he was near the Cross-roads, when an informer of Mr. D. R. Caldwell's came up to him and told him that an old offender, branded on the ear, was going along the road in front. Mr. Grey told the informer to run ahead and catch hold of the man, and he would follow up. This the informer did, but when he laid hold of the rascal, by seizing him round the body, the man drew a long knife on him (informer), and made a deliberate attempt to stab him. The informer was so frightened that he jumped on one side, and let the offender go, but Mr. Grey, who saw the whole affair, threw away his umbrella, and after a good chase, succeeded in securing the runaway. The sitting magistrate, who heard the case, committed it for trial at the Supreme court.

SUMMARY JURISDICTION COURT.

BEFORE THE HON. J. PAUNCEFOTE.

CUMMINGS v. MATHEWS, AND BREMAN v. MATHEWS.—His HONOR gave judgment in the above cases yesterday morning. He remarked that the evidence brought forward at the hearing on Thursday, established the fact that, although the name of Williams was on the register of the vessel at the date the articles were signed, still he was only the agent of Mr. Howard, the purchaser, who was in fact the owner in equity. The transfer of the legal title into Howard's name did not therefore determine the articles, for where a change of ownership had that effect it was because the owner thereby disabled himself from carrying out the contract with the seaman. The only question was, whether Mr. Howard and the defendant voluntarily cancelled and abandoned the old articles, and were liable for a breach of contract by leaving the plaintiff behind. The old articles stipulated that the ship should return to Liverpool within three years, and the plaintiff, who belonged to the Naval Reserve was bound to report himself there at the expiration of that period. The owner, Mr. Howard, admitted that he intended to run the ship between ports in the China sea, and had no idea of sending her back to England, unless a good freight offered. New articles had been entered into by the captain in Hongkong, and a complete crew had been shipped under them, composed partly of some of the old crew who were induced to sign the new articles, and partly of foreign seamen. The plaintiff was ready to take his discharge here if an extra sum were given him besides his wages to take him back to England, but this extra sum defendant refused to pay, and the vessel was about to sail when the plaintiff, who had not even received his wages, brought this action. It was urged on behalf of the defendant that he was compelled to have new articles and to ship a new crew, because so many of the old crew wanted their discharges. But this was no answer to the plaintiff's demand, because none of the crew could obtain their discharge without the captain's consent, and the plaintiff himself would not consent to take his discharge without the extra sum claimed. It was also argued that the plaintiff broke the contract himself by not coming on board and showing himself ready and willing to proceed on the voyage under the old articles. Upon the whole case his Honor was of opinion the evidence of the cancellation and abandonment of the old articles by the master and owner was so clear that the plaintiff was relieved from the duty of offering to proceed to sea, and as he never agreed to take his discharge, except on the condition of receiving an extra sum to take him home, the captain was liable for a breach of contract under the old articles. Section 208 of the Merchant Shipping Act did not apply to this colony, but there must be judgment for the plaintiff, for the amount of his wages admitted to be due, and in addition a sum equivalent to three months' wages, together with costs of attorney. The same judgment would, by agreement, be entered up in each case.

SUPREME COURT.

CRIMINAL SESSIONS.

BEFORE CHIEF-JUSTICE SMALE.

The June sessions were opened yesterday morning at 10 o'clock, and shortly after the Chief-Justice gave judgment in the case of Regina v. Souza. He said:—

The Criminal Sessions having again been opened, it is incumbent on me to deliver my decision on the objection taken by Mr. Hayllar on the defendant, to the information filed in this case. The questions are difficult. Ever since the argument my attention has been much drawn to other important cases almost daily, so that I have not considered the case as fully as I could wish, and my arguments are less perfect than they would be if I had had more time or more robust health. In this case, the Attorney-General has signed an information (the form here ordinarily substituted by Ordinance for a "true bill" by the grand jury in England) against the defendant for a misdemeanor. First count, in having published a defamatory libel in a newspaper, O Echo, do Povo, in the Portuguese language, concerning Mr. Pereira, Procurador at Macao, at Victoria, on the 3rd of May last. Second count, for the same libel setting out the words charging Mr. Pereira with bribery, extortion, and corruption in his office at Macao, and with others acts as being punishable by Articles 318 and 314, of the Penal Code in force there. The Attorney-General having declined to do so, Mr. Pollard, retained by Mr. Pereira, conducted the prosecution as one by a private person. Mr. Hayllar appeared for the defendant on the 18th of May last. He read an affidavit, dated the 18th of May, by defendant, in which it was deposed that Mr. Pereira was a domiciled inhabitant of Macao, under the jurisdiction of Portugal, and a Portuguese subject, and that he was resident in Macao, and that he was then in Hongkong solely for the purpose of this cause, and he asked that the information might be quashed on the ground that Mr. Pereira had no locus standi here to prosecute as a private prosecutor, and also that there was no power whatever to prosecute for this libel in this Court on several grounds, the main ground being that a libel on this foreigner, however respectable, is not distinguished as to be a subject for an ex-officio information in England, as tending to war was not within the Criminal Jurisdiction of this Court. At the conclusion of the argument I reserved the benefit of the objection to be taken in arrest of judgment. On the 19th of May last Mr. Hayllar pleaded a justification under Lord Campbell's Act, and thereupon issue was joined. The Defendant filed an affidavit to shew that delay was necessary for his defence and the prosecution filed an affidavit in answer. I adjourned the case until these June Sessions. On this Mr. Pollard urgently requested me to allow the question of Jurisdiction to be re-argued. I had in May great doubts as to my jurisdiction: but I thought it due to the prosecutor, Mr. Pereira, to allow him to make manifest, the fact of the libel, of paramount importance to all honorable minds, as I thought. If my decision had been left as it was, the innocence of the gentleman and lady charged by this libel might have been made manifest (assuming, as Mr. Pollard did, their entire innocence, which I do not question), and with strong moral grounds, which sometimes, turn the scale in doubtful legal questions, the question of Jurisdiction might afterwards have been decided by me. Taking the position the prosecutors by his Counsel took, he has forced on for decision the legal before the moral question in this case. The question was re-argued on the 3rd instant. I should far exceed the limits of propriety if I were to comment fully on the able, the most able, arguments on both sides on the questions raised. First—whether any libel on any non-resident foreigner, not being "distinguished" according to the meaning of that word in Libel Law, can be the subject of criminal prosecution in any form in our Courts? Second—whether any such libel can be the subject of prosecution by the libelled prosecutor in a criminal prosecution conducted by and under the responsibility of himself alone, especially in this Colony, where there is as I believe, a public prosecutor, the Attorney-General? Recurring eventually to the arguments on each side, but not discussing them specifically, I proceed to decide so much of the law as is necessary as to the points raised. Mr. Starkie divides remedies in respect of libels into two classes. First, "Of a Civil nature, which give a remedy in damages to the injured individual." Second, "Of a Criminal nature, which are devised for the security of the public." Now it is not necessary to consider the civil remedy of an alien for a libel very minutely. Mr. Pollard contended at great length that every alien friend resident abroad, as in France or Portugal, has a remedy by action for a libel published in England against him. Cases considered to support the right of action for libel by non-resident foreigners were cited. Of these, one case was, that of the Duke of Brunswick v. Harmer, 14 Q.B. 185, and the case, or rather series of cases, of the Duke of Brunswick v. Gregory—were referred to; but in all these cases it was apparent that the Duke was resident and had a place of residence in England. And Picard v. Lawson, 8 Dowl. P. C. 57, is, I believe, the only authority cited to the effect that an alien, never naturalised, but resident abroad at the date of the libel, can come into this country after the rascal, by seizing him round the body, the man drew a long knife on him (informer), and made a deliberate attempt to stab him. The informer was so frightened that he jumped on one side, and let the offender go, but Mr. Grey, who saw the whole affair, threw away his umbrella, and after a good chase, succeeded in securing the runaway. The sitting magistrate, who heard the case, committed it for trial at the Supreme court.

THE PERFECTION OF PREPARED COCOA.
MARAVILLA COCOA.

Sole Proprietors—TAYLOR BROTHERS, London.

THE COCOA (or CACAO) of MARAVILLA is the true THEOBROMA of LINNÆUS. Cocoa is indigenous to South America, of which Maravilla is a favoured portion. TAYLOR BROTHERS having secured the exclusive supply of this unrivalled Cocoa, have, by the skilful application of their soluble principle and elaborate machinery, produced what is so undeniably the perfection of prepared Cocoa, that it has not only secured the preference of homœopaths and cocoa-drinkers generally, but many who had hitherto not found any preparation to suit them, have, after one trial, adopted the Maravilla Cocoa as their constant beverage for breakfast, luncheon, &c.

"A SUCCESS UNPRECEDENTED."
See following Extract from the Globe of May 14, 1868:
"Various importers and manufacturers have attempted to attain a reputation for their prepared Cocoas, but we doubt whether any thorough success had been achieved until Messrs. Taylor Brothers discovered the extraordinary qualities of "Maravilla" Cocoa. Adapting their perfect system of preparation to this finest of all species of the Theobroma, they have produced an article which supersedes every other Cocoa in the market. Entire solubility, a delicate aroma, and a rare concentration of the purest elements of nutrition, distinguish the Maravilla Cocoa above all others. For Homœopaths and invalids we could not recommend a more agreeable or valuable beverage."

Sold in packets only by all Grocers, of whom also may be had Taylor Brothers' Original HOMŒOPATHIC COCOA and SOLUBLE CHOCOLATE.

EUSTON ROAD, LONDON.

FIFTY YEARS' USE OF THESE MEDICINES
(Morison's Vegetable Universal Medicines)
By the public has proved their efficacy and virtues, and the truth of Mr. MORISON'S system as to the cure of diseases. Being composed only of vegetable matter or medicinal herbs, they are harmless to the most tender age or weakest frame, under every stage of suffering; the most unpleasant in their operation; and the most certain in searching out the root of any complaint. Besides cleansing the great highway of the body—the bowels—they act copiously on the kidneys, the liver, and the skin. A sense of relief in the whole system is felt very shortly after they have been taken,—the blood flows more evenly, the heart beats more regularly, and sleep is given to those long deprived of it. The medicines consist of three sorts. No. 1 MORISON'S PILLS; No. 2 MORISON'S PILLS. In boxes at 7½d., 1s. 1½d., 2s. 9d., and 4s. 6d.; family packets, 11s. each; also the Vegetable Aperient Powders, 1s. 1½d. per box.

MORISON'S UNIVERSAL OINTMENT
Is recommended as the best external application in all cases of Wounds, Cutaneous Eruptions, &c. In Pots at 1s. 1½d. and 2s. 9d. each.

The above Vegetable Universal Medicines are sold by the Hygeian Agents, and all Medicine Vendors.

By Her Majesty's Royal Letters Patent.
AND PATENTEE OF THE NICOLLEAN BOOT.
Officers in Her Majesty's Army and Navy should Purchase
THE FLEXURA BOOT.
Especially adapted for the use of Cavalry Officers.
THE FLEXURA or SPRING WAIST BOOT, for both Ladies and Gentlemen: gives an elegant appearance and symmetrical form to the foot, improving the shape of the instep, with increased comfort in wearing. ITS CHIEF FEATURE is an elastic steel spring, inserted in the waist of the boot, causing it to fit more closely to the hollow of the foot than the ordinary boot. It is highly recommended by the Medical Faculty as a support for flat feet and weak ankles, while at the same time it improves the appearance, and develops the shape of a well formed foot by its surprising elasticity. It is also completely successful in remedying uneven wearing, and possesses the important advantage of never losing its shape.
THE FLEXURA BOOT is also invaluable in supporting and training the feet of young people.
THE FLEXURA SPRING can be inserted of any strength, either light or strong, to suit all feet.
MANUFACTURERS OF THE ELEVANS BOOT.
THE ELEVANS BOOT is particularly valuable to Ladies and Gentlemen of short stature; it elevates the wearer, improves the instep, and the wearer is made taller without having unusually high exterior heels.
HUNTING, SHOOTING, and FISHING BOOTS of all descriptions.
MANUFACTURERS of PATENT PANUS CORUM BOOTS and SHOES for tender feet.
Ladies and Gentlemen waited upon at their own residences in town and country for orders, or if residing abroad, may be fitted accurately with the Flexura Boot by forwarding one of their old boots, with an outline of their foot on paper, with the order by post. Lasts and Boot Trees made to order.
Outfits for India, the Colonies, and all climates. Price Lists forwarded on application to
